

Meeting the environmental needs of the future

Global Environmental Excellence is an expanding and successful company providing a unique range of Energy, Environmental and Water Management services. We have a proven track record of providing consistent high quality services to a variety of clients including hospitals, universities, central / local government buildings, commercial and industrial properties.

GENEX recognise the growing pressure and opportunity for clients to produce and manage buildings with reduced environmental impacts, reduced operating costs and improved internal environments to enhance the comfort and productivity of the occupants. GENEX have capitalised on this development in the market by embracing and focusing on our in-house environmental expertise which is delivered by both highly qualified and passionate engineers with over 30 years of Energy, Environmental and Water Management experience. Our skill base can therefore be specifically targeted to meet individual client requirements.

We believe we are part of a winning team, forward looking, investing in our people, operating in an 'open book' environment with our clients and staff to engender trust and partnership. We are committed to partnering with our clients in which both companies work together to achieve mutual objectives through open and transparent working practices.

As an energy and environmental consultancy we are passionate about our environmental impact and seek in every instance to minimise our impact on the environment by delivering our services in the most environmental friendly method available. Our key service delivery areas are:

- Energy audits, M&T and Benchmarking
- EPCs, DEC's and Air conditioning Inspection Reports (EPBD)
- Part L Compliance
- EMS & ISO 14001
- Energy Purchasing
- Carbon Reduction Commitment
- Sustainability Advice
- All types of BREEAM Assessments
- BMS Advice, Design and Monitoring
- Thermal Imaging
- Design & Installation of Renewable Energy Solutions
- Legionella Control and Management
- Legionella Management and Control Software
- Swimming Pool Management
- Closed Circuit Water Analysis and Treatment
- Air Quality

GENEX provide the focal point for the above services and ensure clients remain at the leading edge of the development and legislation relating to its field of expertise. As a result of our business approach, GENEX is fast becoming recognised by our clients as the 'Centre of Excellence' for the services it provides.

